Italians call it a brindisi

Ferrari Sparkling Wine Dinner

Sparkling wines are the ultimate wine of choice when it comes to celebrations of special occasions. But sparkling wines are too often neglected, and vastly underappreciated when it comes to pairing them with food throughout a meal – from appetizers to dessert.

“I strongly believe that sparkling wine has a bigger role to play at the table than being sipped for a toast. Its brilliant combination of effervescence, ample acidity (tartness) and lighter weight (low alcohol) make for beautiful pairings – Evan Goldstein, Master Sommelier and author of Perfect Pairings”

We are delighted to announce that we have teamed up with our good friends from Ferrari Sparkling Wine on the 12th of July to host a night full of fizz and sumptuous food.

Ferrari is famous for making Italy's top sparkling wine in the traditional way with the champagne grapes, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. We are lucky enough to try six of the sparkling wines with the highlight being the world class 2004 Giulio Riserva.
