READING

Described as 'UK's Sexiest Townhouse Hotel' by the Evening Standard, The Roseate Reading is recognised for its artistic design and luxury. The hotel prides itself on its attention to detail, immaculate service and hospitality.

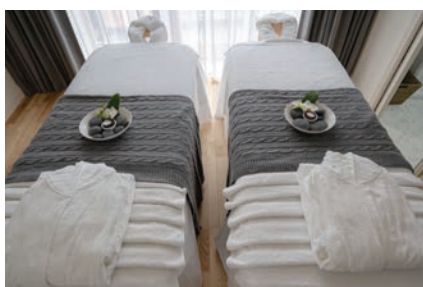

The Roseate Reading promises an outstanding experience to its guests. Opulent in design, plush upholstery, beautiful wall papers, stunning artworks, sculptures and a bespoke chandelier made with 86,000 Italian glass beads cascading down from the top of the building. The Roseate Reading was originally Shire Hall for the Berkshire County Council. The building, along with its wide hallways, vaulted ceilings, cornice mouldings and the original lift shaft have all been precisely restored to their original glory. To revive the old world charm of the Shire Hall, its council chamber, Eden along with its imposing fireplace and elaborate wood carvings on the doors and mantelpiece have all been restored to their past splendour.
