

The Roseate Reading

wins double Silver Awards at the Beautiful South Tourism Awards 2025

Reading, Berkshire, December 12th, 2025:

Adding spectacular delight and fervour to the overriding festive spirit, The Roseate Reading, a luxurious 5 star Townhouse Hotel in Reading, was recently awarded two distinguished silver awards at the 'Beautiful South Tourism Awards 2025' that recognise exceptional businesses across South East England.

An extraordinary feat and an ode to its commitment towards immaculate service, hospitality and refined guest experiences, the Hotel was recently awarded, 'Large Hotel of the Year' and its iconic restaurant & bar, The Reading Room, befittingly won the 'Restaurant of the Year' award.

Originally the Shire Hall, The Roseate Reading is a timeless blend of elegance and contemporary design. It features 50 individually styled bedrooms & suites, a state-of-the-art spa & wellness centre and an award winning restaurant - The Reading Room Restaurant & Bar, quite a hidden jewel, opulent, stylish, and well known for deeply sensorial all day dining experiences.

On this joyful occasion, Fran Downton, Chief Executive of Tourism South East, said, "Congratulations to all of last night's winners. It was a pleasure to celebrate the hard work, professionalism and commitment across our region. The South East continues to set a high bar, and everyone recognised should feel incredibly proud."

Awards Director, Nell Barrington added, "It was a brilliant celebration with such a positive atmosphere. The winners were outstanding and really show what makes the South East so special."

Vicky Punchaye, Regional General Manager, Roseate Hotels and Resorts, commented: "This double Silver recognition, particularly in the highly competitive South East market, is a tribute to the diligence of our entire team. We are deeply grateful for their hard work and dedication and for the valued feedback from our guests which continually inspires us. These awards confirm that we remain committed to offering an experience defined by understated sophistication and considered detail, in the way our guests expect from The Roseate."

Rajesh Maharjan, Executive Chef at The Reading Room, added, "This recognition is a proud moment for our entire team. At The Reading Room, we strive to craft a sophisticated culinary journey, allowing our carefully sourced, seasonal ingredients to speak for themselves. Earning this Silver Award affirms that our commitment to considered flavours and thoughtful hospitality is well received by our guests, and for that, we are truly grateful."

Notes to Editors

About The Roseate Reading

The Roseate Reading is a luxurious 5-star hotel centrally located in Reading, Berkshire. Housed in a beautifully restored historic building, the hotel combines timeless elegance with contemporary design. It features 50 individually styled bedrooms, a state-of-the-art spa and wellness centre, and the award-winning restaurant, The Reading Room, offering a refined dining experience. Part of the Roseate Hotels & Resorts collection, it is renowned for its exceptional service and attention to detail.

About The Reading Room

The Reading Room is the signature restaurant at The Roseate, Reading. It offers a sophisticated culinary journey with a focus on seasonal, locally sourced ingredients. The menu, crafted by a passionate culinary team, presents modern British and European dishes in an elegant setting, making it a favourite for both hotel guests and local gourmands.

About the Beautiful South Tourism Awards

The Beautiful South Tourism Awards celebrate the best of tourism in the South East of England. Run by Tourism South East, the awards recognise businesses and individuals who demonstrate excellence, innovation, and quality across a range of categories, encouraging best practice and promoting the region as a world-class destination.

www.roseatehotels.com/reading/theroseate/